Sets the Benchmark for Professionalism and Market Knowledge

My wife and I recently had the pleasure of appointing Bernadette to market and sell our home. From our initial enquiry Bernadette displayed an uncanny ability to read us as vendors. She was calm, incredibly professional hard working and importantly her commercial and market knowledge peerless. Above all, she was always responsive and never pushy. These are important factors, which confirmed on more than one occasion we had made the right choice in appointing her. In what has clearly become a crowded market of realtors seeking to represent vendors, Bernadette in our view stands well above the pack. Even after the completion of our sale, where many agents vanish with their commission, she provided numerous examples where the 'client' relationship can continue. Professional and impressive; appoint her with confidence. Matthew Coleman Lawyer
